

Gift Registry

The gift registry is the perfect opportunity for the bride and groom to set-up their household. It is wise for the couple to do this "wish-list" shopping trip together to be sure they choose items and styles both desire. Of course, they should keep in mind they probably won't receive everything they want, but it is a good way to get started.

Traditionally when people think of registries, they think of items like fine china, flatware and crystal. While some couples may shy away from the idea, many couples are discovering the incredible array of choices available, everything from fancy to contemporary or everyday casual. Today long-standing manufacturers have included lines that are dishwasher and microwave safe making china an ideal choice for everyday use. The registry is also the perfect time to begin the couples china, flatware or crystal collection, since these items, though desired, are often not purchased by the newlyweds themselves.

Other items to consider registering for include general housewares, linens and even electronics or sporting goods, depending on the couples interests and activities.

The following worksheets can be used to provide ideas of items to register for and to organize plans for the gift list. Once completed, a call to set an appointment with the store's registry department is recommended. Then take these forms to the stores of choice and enjoy "shopping!"
